RESOLUTION

Reaffirming the importance of the General Security of Military Information Agreement between the Republic of Korea and Japan, and for other purposes.

Whereas the General Security of Military Information Agreement (GSOMIA) between the Republic of Korea and Japan is crucial to safeguarding United States and allied interests in Northeast Asia and the broader Indo-Pacific region;

Whereas bilateral information sharing between the Governments of the Republic of Korea and Japan is critical to increasing trust and growing cooperation that advances shared defense and security interests;

Whereas the Governments and people of Japan and the Republic of Korea have made significant contributions to advancing our shared defense partnership and promoting trilateral cooperation;

Whereas defense cooperation among the United States, Japan, and the Republic of Korea serves as a deterrent against aggression from adversaries and external security threats as well as against new and non-traditional challenges;

Whereas the suspension of GSOMIA directly harms United States national security at a time when the Government of the Democratic People's Republic of Korea is engaging in an increased level of provocations, including 12 tests of over 20 ballistic missiles this year, including new types of nuclear-capable land and sea-launched ballistic missiles;

Whereas the Governments of the People's Republic of China, the Democratic People's Republic of Korea, and the Russian Federation are seeking to capitalize on friction between the Republic of Korea and Japan, and the resulting strain on trilateral cooperation and on our bilateral alliances;

Whereas the Government and people of the United States value the partnership of Japan and the Republic of Korea in upholding regional security and prosperity, including by safeguarding maritime security and freedom of navigation, promoting investment and commerce, advocating for the rule of law, and opposing the use of intimidation and force in the Indo-Pacific; and

Whereas strengthening intelligence sharing is fundamental to the future of trilateral cooperation, and to enabling the

Governments of the United States, Japan, and the Republic of Korea to face the challenges posed by the Government of the Democratic People's Republic of Korea's destabilizing actions, the People's Republic of China, and other emerging security threats: Now, therefore, be it

1 Resolved, That the Senate—

2 (1) reaffirms the importance of the General Se-
3 curity of Military Information Agreement
4 (GSOMIA) between the Republic of Korea and 5 Japan as a crucial military intelligence-sharing 6 agreement foundational to Indo-Pacific security and 7 defense, and specifically to countering nuclear and 8 missile threats from the Democratic People's Repub-
9 lic of Korea;

10 (2) underscores the vital role of the alliances
11 between the United States and Japan and the 12 United States and the Republic of Korea in pro-
13 moting peace, stability, and security in the Indo-Pa-
14 cific region;

15 (3) highlights that friction between the Repub-
16 lic of Korea and Japan only fractures the region and 17 empowers its agitators;

18 (4) urges the Republic of Korea to consider how 19 to best address potential measures that may under-20 mine regional security cooperation;

1 (5) encourages the Governments of Japan and
2 the Republic of Korea to take steps to rebuild trust
3 and address the sources of bilateral friction, insulate
4 important defense and security ties from other bilat-
5 eral challenges, and pursue cooperation on shared
6 interests, such as a denuclearized Korean peninsula,
7 market-based trade and commerce, and a stable
8 Indo-Pacific region; and

9 (6) commits to strengthening and deepening
10 diplomatic, economic, security, and people-to-people
11 ties between and among the United States, Japan,
12 and the Republic of Korea.
